General Description

The College of Staten Island is one of 11 senior colleges of The City University of New York and the only public college on Staten Island. CSI offers over 80 undergraduate programs, 24 graduate programs, and through the CUNY Graduate Center, participates in 7 doctoral programs. The College enrolls approximately 11,000 students and employs nearly 2,000 faculty and staff. Located on a 204-acre park-like campus that is minutes away from the cultural treasures of Manhattan, the CSI campus is the largest collegiate site in NYC. Fourteen neo-Gregorian style buildings house over 300 classrooms, laboratories, instructional spaces, and study lounges, as well as department, faculty, and program offices. CSI boasts an advanced, networked infrastructure which includes a high-performance computational center that supports technology-based research, teaching, and learning through CUNY. Two residential buildings on campus provide housing for over 400 students.

The Director of the English Language Institute (ELI) is an integral member of the staff at the Center for Global Engagement at the College of Staten Island/CUNY. The Center is a comprehensive international education office at the College and encompasses International Scholar Services; Study Abroad; the English Language Institute; and Special Programs, and is responsible for overall campus internationalization. The Director of ELI hires and manages faculty teaching in the program, assistants and advisors (as needed) and all support personnel in preparing and supporting international students from abroad to study at ELI to include visa preparation, travel and relocation advice, cultural adjustment, and housing.
